WORKSHOP ON "MICROSCALE EXPERIMENTS IN CHEMISTRY"

21.01.2016

A one day workshop on "MICROSCALE EXPERIMENTS IN CHEMISTRY" funded by DBT-STAR College Scheme was conducted on 21st January 2016. Dr.S.Murugan, H.O.D of Chemistry (Rtd), S.T Hindu college, Nagercoil demonstrated the experiments involved in the Inorganic Analysis and Organic Analysis in microscale. Faculty of the department, faculty from other departments and the students of B.Sc Chemistry participated and were benefited. The relevance of the technique was explained in the first session by a powerpoint presentation.

In the Technical session -I, Microscale Inorganic Analysis comprising volumetric analysis by two burette method, qualitative analysis of inorganic mixtures were demonstrated. In the session II, the organic analysis was demonstrated and micro technique of determination of melting points and boiling points was also demonstrated. He also exhorted the Lab Assistants on the preparation of various solutions for conduct of Microscale experiments. Dr.Murugan suggested that the microscale techniques be introduced into the curriculum.

Microscale technique is an environmentally safe pollution prevention method of performing chemical processes using small quantities of chemicals without compromising the quality and standard. It also reduces the running cost of the laboratory, the time required to perform experiments, chemical waste produced at the source. This technique offer more laboratory safety by decreasing the potential for exposure to chemicals. Due to the greatly reduced volumes of solvents & other volatile substances used, it improves the air quality and creates a pleasant working atmosphere. This ecologically sound technique encourages 129 students of B.Sc Chemistry to think about waste minimization which creates the sense of "green chemistry". Three faculty members of Physics attended the programme.

The programme was interactive and participatory. Xerox copies of guidelines for carrying out the microscale experiments were distributed to the participants.

Dr.S.Murugan, H.O.D of Chemistry (Rtd), S.T Hindu College, Nagercoil demonstrated the microscale experiments in the one day workshop on "Microscale experiments in chemistry" on 21.01.16
