The workshop on Web Design using PHP and MySQL will give a working understanding of these important technologies and impart idea on how to use them to create our own impressive websites. When used in combination, it surely is the better way to construct sites that involve complexity, large volumes of data, and the flexibility to make adjustments and changes over time.

Mr. J. Tamilselvan, Asst. Professor, Department of M.C.A., KSR College of Arts and Science, Tiruchengodu was the resource person for the workshop. He explained the way of programming with PHP in the morning session. In the afternoon session, he explained MySql connectivity. He also gave some hands on working with PHP and MySql. The students were very much interested to work in this new way of designing a Dynamic Web page.

Android is an open source operating system for mobile devices such as smart phones and tablet computers. It offers a unified approach to application development for mobile devices which means developers need only develop for Android, and their applications should be able to run on different devices powered by Android. To expose the students to Mobile Apps development, the Hands-on training in Android Programming was arranged for two days (30-12-2015 & 31-12-2015). Mr. T.S. Venkateswaran, Asst. Professor of M.C.A., KSR College of Arts and Science, Tiruchengodu was the resource person for this programme. He gave an introduction on different operating systems available for Mobile devices, explained the way of developing simple applications using Eclipse IDE. He gave a step by step way of developing few simple applications which the students could follow and work. He was assisted by Mr. M. Boopathy Rajasekaran, and Mr. M. Vijayan. Students were also exposed to the new IDE- Android Studio to develop mobile Apps. Students were able to develop simple applications like "Hello world", Moving from one screen to another screen, simple SMS application.

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY
DBT- STAR COLLEGE SCHEME

21.01.2016

A one day workshop on “MICROSCALE EXPERIMENTS IN CHEMISTRY” funded by DBT-STAR College Scheme was conducted on 21st January 2016. Dr.S.Murugan, H.O.D of Chemistry (Rtd), S.T Hindu college, Nagercoil demonstrated the experiments involved in the Inorganic Analysis and Organic Analysis in microscale. Faculty of the department, faculty from other departments and the students of B.Sc Chemistry participated and were benefited. The relevance of the technique was explained in the first session by a powerpoint presentation.

In the Technical session –I, Microscale Inorganic Analysis comprising volumetric analysis by two burette method, qualitative analysis of inorganic mixtures were demonstrated. In the session II, the organic analysis was demonstrated and micro technique of determination of melting points and boiling points was also demonstrated. He also exhorted the Lab Assistants on the preparation of various solutions for conduct of Microscale experiments. Dr.Murugan suggested that the microscale techniques be introduced into the curriculum.

Microscale technique is an environmentally safe pollution prevention method of performing chemical processes using small quantities of chemicals without compromising the quality and standard. It also reduces the running cost of the laboratory, the time required to perform experiments, chemical waste produced at the source. This technique offer more laboratory safety by decreasing the potential for exposure to chemicals. Due to the greatly reduced volumes of solvents & other volatile substances used, it improves the air quality and creates a pleasant working atmosphere. This ecologically sound technique encourages 129 students of B.Sc Chemistry to think about waste minimization which creates the sense of “green chemistry”. Three faculty members of Physics attended the programme.

The programme was interactive and participatory. Xerox copies of guidelines for carrying out the microscale experiments were distributed to the participants.

Dr.S.Murugan, H.O.D of Chemistry (Rtd), S.T Hindu College, Nagercoil demonstrated the microscale experiments in the one day workshop on “Microscale experiments in chemistry” on 21.01.16

RESEARCH COMMITTEE STATE LEVEL WORKSHOP "RESOURCE FOR RESEARCHERS"

REPORT

The Research Committee organized a State level Workshop for the faculty members and research scholars on 27.01.2016. Dr. P. Kumudha, Associate Professor of Botany and Co-ordinator of the committee welcomed the gathering. Dr. D. Kamalaveni, Principal, Vellalar College for Women urged the research scholars to make regular use of library and Delnet facilities available in the College. She encouraged the participants for the research paper presentation in conferences and publications in refereed journals. She exhorted that sincerity and dedication would help them to reach greater heights in research.

The resource person Dr.R.Parvathi, Associate Professor and Head, Department of Mathematics spoke on the topic "Resources for Researchers". She disseminated plenty of information regarding government funding from UGC, DST, CSIR and TNSCST and minor and major research projects, scholarships and fellowships. She also explained about the eligibility criteria and preparation of proposals for the same. She insisted the autonomous thinking, self motivation, consistency, updating and sacrificing personal time are important prerequisites for a quality research. She gave ample information regarding e-book resources, travel grants for participation in abroad conferences. The aspirants were enlightened on workshops, Refresher courses and Summer Research Fellowship Programme of Indian Academy of Sciences, Bangalore and Summer/Winter schools of other National Organizations. The profound information shared by the resource persons gave a new dimension to research for the scholars. Dr. N. Sabitha, Associate Professor and Head, Department of Nutrition and Dietetics proposed the vote of thanks.

jQuery is a cross-platform JavaScript library designed to simplify the client-side scripting of HTML. It is a fast, small, and feature-rich JavaScript library. It makes things like HTML document traversal and manipulation, event handling, and animation much simpler with an easy-to-use API that works across a multitude of browsers.

Mr. R. Gopinath, Senior Software Engineer, FatPipe Networks Ltd, Chennai was the resource person for the workshop. He explained the need for writing Javascript in web page creation, way of connecting jQuery scripts in web pages. Students were given some simple assignments which they could complete with ease. The resource person was assisted by Mr. B. Sree Prabhu, System Analyst, Sri SakthiPriya Mills Ltd., Erode – 11. This session was useful to the students, who have started their project of Dynamic web designing.
