VERMI COMPOST UNIT-BIOFERTILIZER PREPARATION

BIOFERTILIZER PREPARATION

The Department of Zoology and PG and Research Department of Botany maintain a Vermitech unit in our college. UGC allocated a sum of Rs.2.19 lakhs for Organic manure preparation in our college under UGC-CPE-XI plan. The initial cost for the construction of vermi unit was Rs.1.75 lakhs and for establishment of Vermibed was 45,000. The environmental impacts on soil have necessitated a change in our agricultural practices. Vermicomposting is one of the practices of organic farming.

Vermicomposting is the process of production of organic manure by the decomposition of organic wastes facilitated through earthworms interacting with microorganisms. Vermicompost are rich in plant growth regulating nutrients, which tends to promote growth, and yield when applied to soil. It is low cost, eco-friendly method that improves soil health and makes soil fertile. It is getting popularized globally and its demand is growing rapidly. It is not only increasing the income of the farmers but also helps us to move towards sustainable agriculture.

The vermicompost harvested in our vermi unit is sold at low cost to the staff and students of our college. The management also buy vermicompost from us for the maintenance of college garden. The income generated through this vermi unit is used to conduct training programme for the Self Help groups of Erode and also for the students.

In future we are planning to expand the unit for commercial purpose.
