REPORT

The UGC – Funded Guest Lecture on “Functional Foods as Therapeutic Supplement for Chronic Diseases”, delivered by Dr. R. SahulHameed, Assistant Professor, Department of Home Science, Gandhigram Rural Institute, Deemed University, Gandhigram. Lecture, has thrown a lime light on Nutraceuticals – a food or part of food that claim to possess potentially positive health benefits in addition to basic nutrition value. As per the statistics released by World Health Organization, Non Communicable Diseases (NCDs) kill 41 million people each year, equivalent to 71% of all deaths globally. NCDs are cardiovascular diseases (like heart attacks and stroke), cancers, chronic respiratory diseases (such as chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and asthma) and diabetes. In India, the nutraceutical regulation was implemented under FSSAI in 2010. Bioactive compounds in common plant foods namely onion, garlic, tomato, carrot and cabbage are inulin, allicin, lycopene, beta carotene and isothiocyanate respectively helps in the prevention, management or treatment of aforementioned chronic diseases. Active compounds in our common food items that take part in our regular routine diet were discussed. Further, the lecture highlighted the value of natural foods with therapeutic potential rather than consuming synthetic items. As a take home message, healthy eating habits and life style was insisted among the students.

Department of Nutrition and Dietetics of Vellalar College for Women, carried out the UGC funded Extension Activity, at Villarasampatti, Erode, on the topic “Transfer of Technology to alleviate Hunger and Malnutrition” on 30.09.2019.

Childhood stage is a rapid growing stage that increases the requirement of nutrients in order to meet the demand. Improper feeding habits due to lack of awareness and availability stay as cause for adverse deficiency disorders in almost all developing countries. Final year B.Sc students along with teaching & non- teaching staff members of Department of Nutrition & Dietetics, Vellalar College for Women, Erode, visited the ICDS (Integrated Child Development Services) center situated at Villarasampatti, Erode and conducted a programme. Children (1-5 years) and their mothers, expectant and nursing women participated in this Programme. Complementary food containing amylase activity is being provided to ICDS beneficiaries. Food consumption rate would be reduced in case of monotonous food among children and adult women as well. As a part of extension activity, technologies for product development by using the complementary food was explained and demonstrated to the Anganwadi worker.

Charts containing pictures of foods that promote and helps to sustain bone health of women in their life time and even during post-menopausal stage was also displayed and explained. Benefits and methods of effective rain water harvesting was also discussed. Access to water is limited due to contamination and makes the consumers to depend on secondary water sources. Hence materials and other provisions required for implementing rain water harvesting was sponsored to this ICDS center. Children and other women beneficiaries were insisted to practice agricultural activities and were encouraged to raise kitchen garden inside their campus. The fresh foods stuffsthat are cultivated from the kitchen garden may be utilized to prepare nutritious food for consumption. Students insisted that, the kitchen wastes could be used to prepare organic manure and used in kitchen garden.

Already achieved the highest A grade, the institution has upheld the status with an increased CGPA value of 3.43 on a four point scale in its Third cycle Accreditation by the NAAC. The college has raised its bar by attaining the status of College with Potential for Excellence bestowed by UGC. The 72nd Rank in the NIRF ranking 2019 is an authentic recognition of the glorious heritage of the Institution.

About the Department of Physics

The main objective of the department is to equip the students with the holistic knowledge of Physics at UG level and helps each of them evolve into a nation – building, socially conscious and scientifically oriented individual. With this objective the Department of Physics was started in the year 1970 offering only Pre-University and Ancillary courses. It became a full-fledged one in the year 1979 with the introduction of B.Sc. Physics. The Department has made great strides in academics and its earnest efforts secured financial assistance for Minor Research Projects and conduct of UGC sponsored National Seminar/Conference. The M.Phil. programme was started in the academic year 2009-2010 and has been producing M.Phil. scholars since then. The earnest efforts of the faculty have paid rich dividends which are evident from the good academic results obtained.

About the Department of Zoology

Zoology was offered as a course at Pre University level since the inception of this institution. Being the gateway to modern biological science, this pioneer department was elevated to the status of undergraduate programme in the year 1971- 1972 and upgraded as a research department in 2014-2015. In addition, career oriented Add on course-Biomedical Instrumentation had been introduced in the year 2005-2006. Catering to the need and urge of the scientific and technological development, the department focuses its curriculum on Core as well as thrust areas like Biotechnology and Bioinformatics. The students are trained based on recent advancements to acquire global acquaintance in the field of Life science.

Scope of the Seminar

Radiation biology is a highly interdisciplinary field of the interface of biology, physics and medicine. It is characterized by rapid advances in Biological and Technical knowledge. The potential for using these advances to optimize medical care, radiation protection and related fields can be exploited only by complementary activities to support the education of young academics. This National seminar is organized with the aim of introducing the new vistas in the field of biology and physics.

ABOUT THE SYMPOSIUM

The symposium is to illustrate the entrepreneurial excellence that brings different facets in business which is very much needed in today's corporate culture and its environment. It aims to bring together the academicians, research scholars and students to advance the knowledge with innovative concepts to meet imminent corporate challenges.

The concept of entrepreneurship has a wide range of meanings. On one extreme an entrepreneur is a person of very high aptitude who found in only a very small fraction of the population. On the other extreme, anyone who wants to work for himself is considered to be an entrepreneur. Excellence is the quality of being outstanding, exceptional and extremely good. The future belongs to those who have excellence and quality not merely products and services. Entrepreneurial excellence cultivates and creates value, and this value could be intellectual, emotional, aesthetic and financial. The value for an entrepreneur is not necessarily fit, but can also be something less tangible but considered more rewarding. Business value is an informal term that includes all forms of value that determine the health and well-being of the firm in the long run. Business value expands concept of value of the firm and economic value to include other forms of value such as employee value, customer value, supplier value, channel partner value, alliance partner value, managerial value, and societal value. Many of these values are not directly measured in monetary terms but create a rich culture which again enhances the ability to come up with more creative and finally innovative business processes or strategic challenge. This is because excellence begins in
